➤ Special thanks

Thank you for reading this book, and to everyone who worked on it, it meant a lot to us. We would be grateful if you could share this book with your friends and family. This book was a real challenge, but in the end, we managed to do everything as expected, and we hope you like it, too. This book is really fun and is available for all ages. We hope you like it and enjoy reading it.

Four friends - Bia, Lia, Pedro and Caio -and their parents decided to go on vacation to see four amazing places in the world, so they planned everything and went traveling.

When they were on the plane, they noticed that the clouds in the sky had various shapes funny. Bia saw a cloud that looked like a heart, and Gaius saw one that resembled a dragon. They laughed a lot on the trip.

The first stop of the trip was in Canada. It was very cold, and the landscape was covered by white snow. It was winter, and friends took the opportunity to play a lot of games in the snow.

In Canada, they went to a zoo with thousands of pets. It had giraffes, bears, elephants, monkeys, and many others. As it was freezing, some animals were hiding in their shelters.

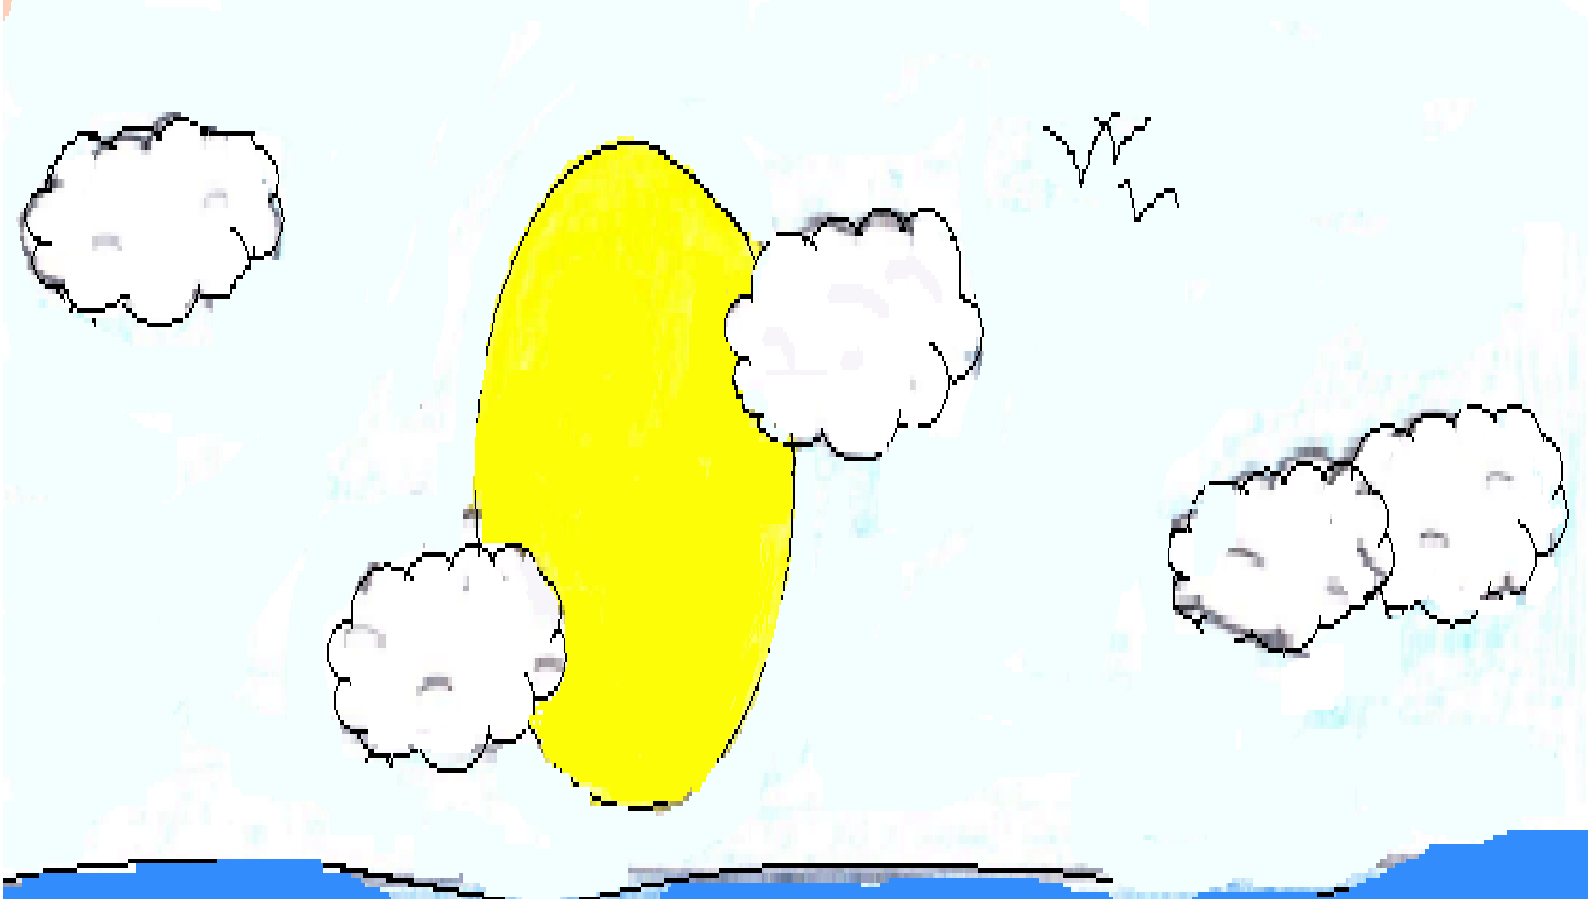

The next day was Christmas, and they went to a big party in a square to see Santa Claus arrive. The streets were well-lit and decorated with Christmas decorations. Everything was perfect. They stayed a few more days in Canada and continued their journey to another country.

They were very happy, as they were going to visit another of the trip: Brazil. They would go to Ceará as soon as they arrived in Brazil, a place with many beaches and delicious food.

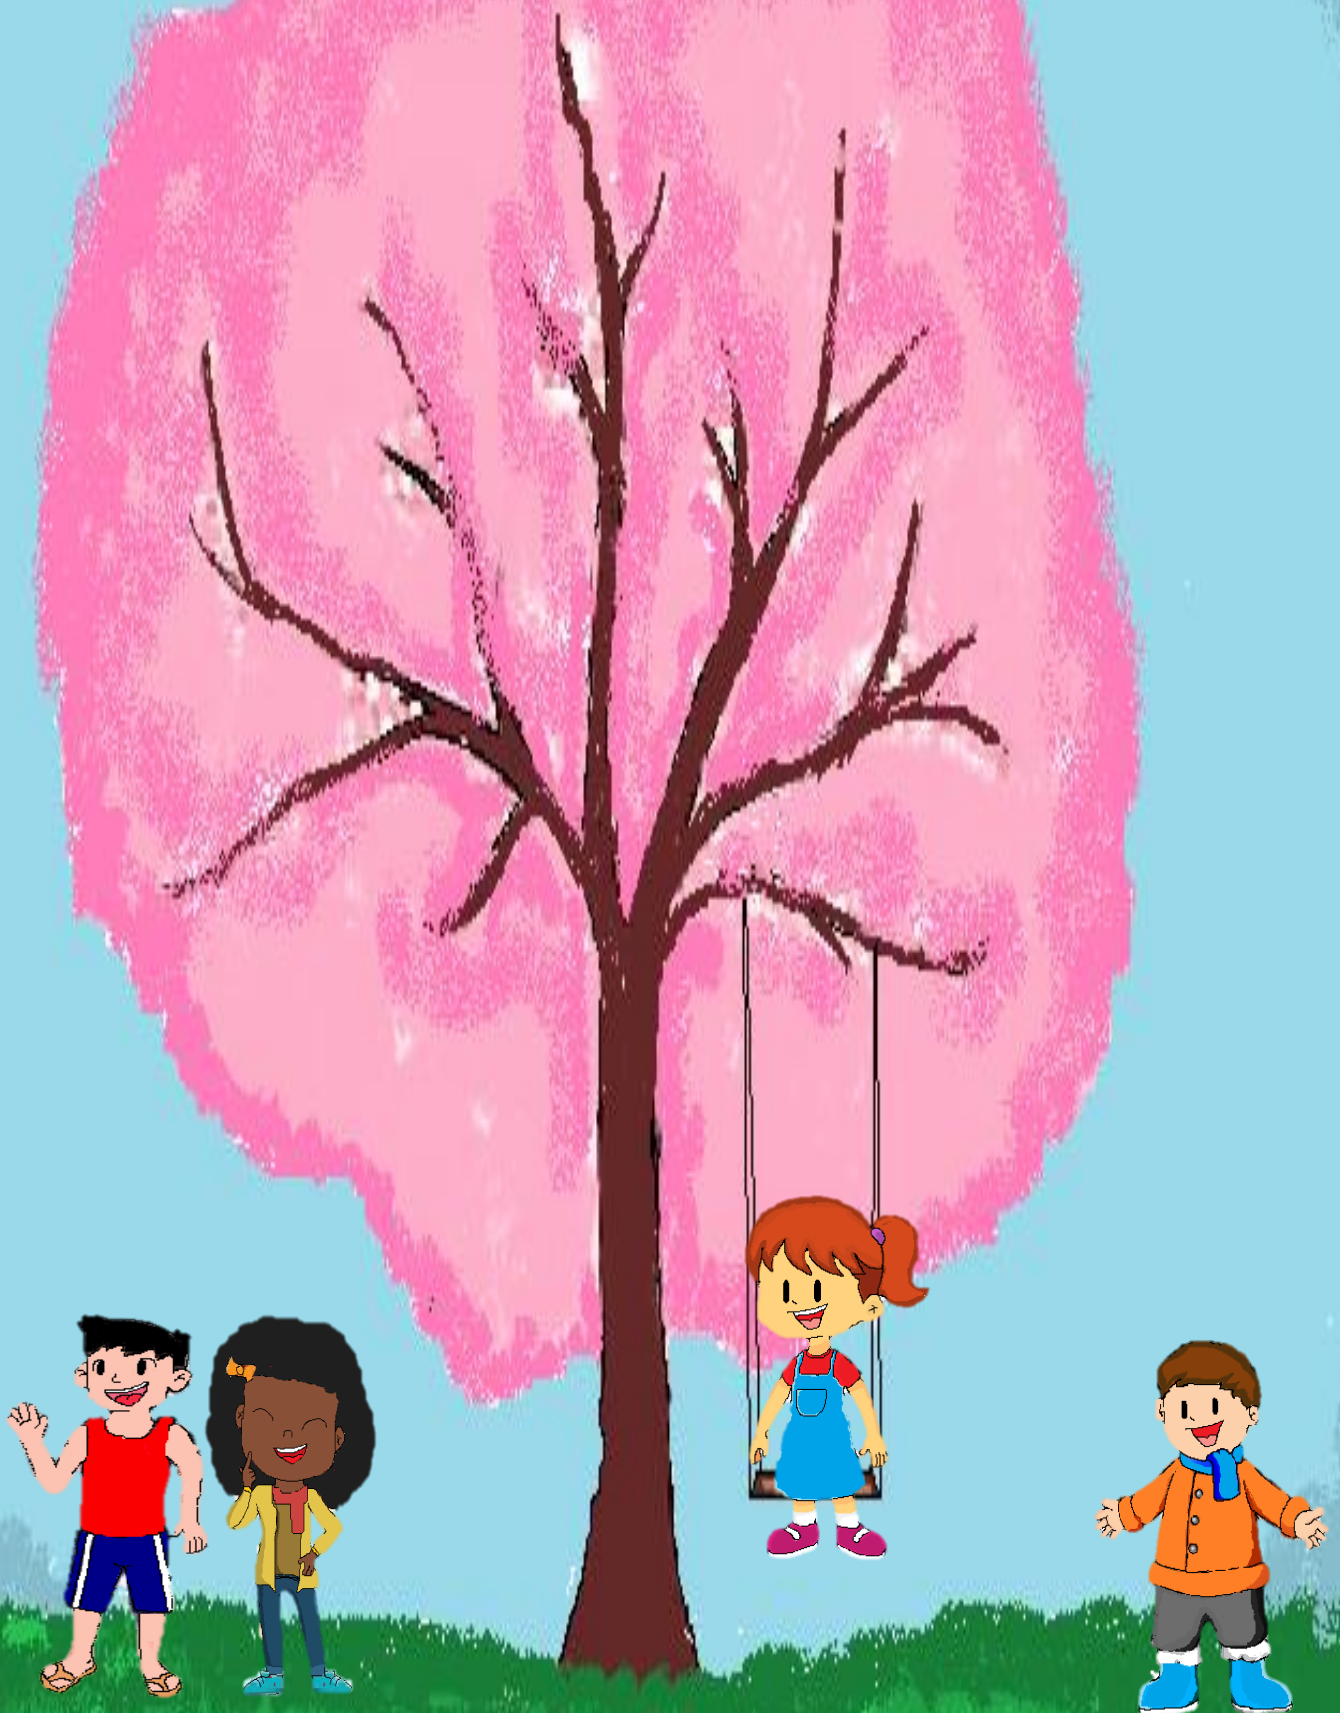

They visited many beautiful beaches with warm Waters and very green seas. They drank coconut water, ate different foods, and enjoyed making sand castles. The day was hot, as it was summer!

The other day, they went to Italy to spend spring there, as its climate is very refreshing and attractive.

There we went to squares, shopping malls and also to a field so we could have everything delicious and the air very fresh.

We had a lot of fun, and the next day, we would travel to another place to spend the autumn there. It was a beautiful place full of natural beauty and full of history.

Arriving in Portugal was wonderful. In autumn, the days get shorter, and the temperatures drop. We walked through several forests, as the vegetation was beautiful and perfect for walks like these. After a few days, we returned home because our trip was over.
