

THEO A GREAT BOY

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Every time we set out to accomplish something, we are imbued with feelings of dedication, organization, effort, and, above all, unity. All these feelings build a way to a new one when we reach our goals – gratitude.

Thinking about our recent achievement, our bilingual project, we would like to express our appreciation to our entire group for their commitment and dedication to our followers, parents, and teachers for their loving presence and support.

Thank you very much!!

7A Students.

A five-year-old boy named Theo lived in a big city with his mother, Rita. Theo was a bright and cheerful boy who loved the school. His mother was very careful and always wanted to show something new to her son.

One day, Theo's mother made his favorite breakfast – eggs, cheese, and bread. The boy woke up very happy and soon went to eat. For him, that morning was very good.

Then he got ready and went to school.

Arriving at school, Theo learned a lot. His favorite subject was math. At the school break, he went to play with his friends, but one of them cracked a bad joke at him. Theo was a sensitive boy. His friend said that he was short and that he couldn't play with them. Theo was very sad about what happened, and that day, he spent the whole school break alone.

Theo's best friend tried to console him, but he was still sad.

Later, the classes ended, and Theo's mother picked him up from school. Rita noticed that her son was sad and silent, so she asked what had happened. Theo explained to his mother that some boys excluded him at the school break and said he was short. He was very sad.

Arriving home, Rita understood the situation and continued the conversation with her son. She said that Theo needed to calm down and that she would talk to the teacher to explain to all the students how bad bullying is.

The next day, the teacher decided to give a class to teach the students how bad bullying is. She said that by doing it, we make our friends sad and hurt. The right thing to do is to let everybody play together.

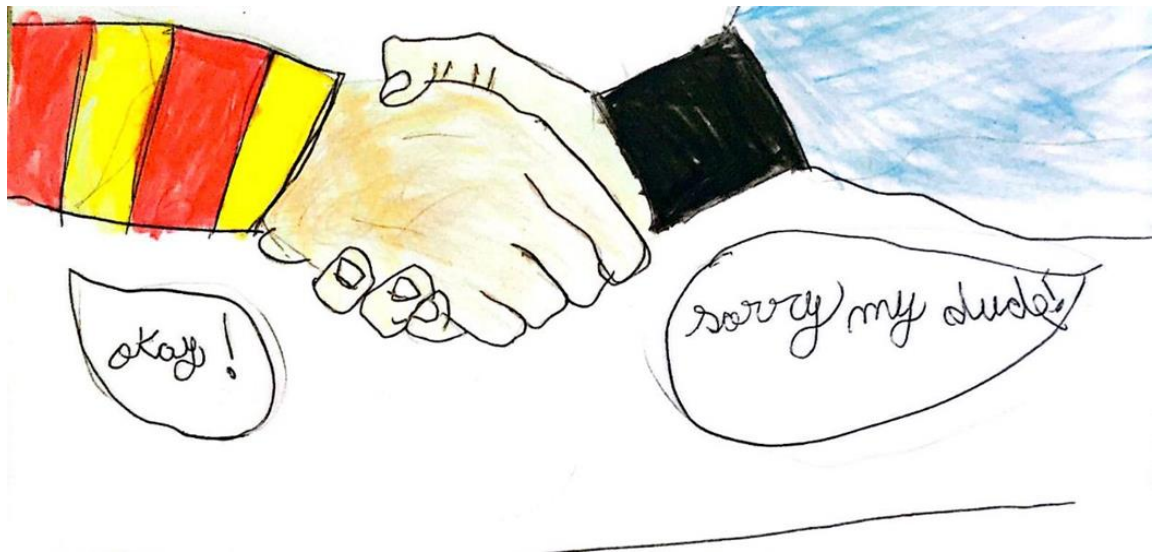

She also said that all students should respect one another.

At the end of the class, the boy who had bullied Theo went to apologize and said he was sorry. They became friends, and Theo was no longer excluded from the games.

When Rita went to pick him up from school, she saw that the boy was much happier.

Theo explained to his mom that after class, the boy who had bullied him apologized and that they were friends now.

Rita called and thanked the teacher for her help. At lunchtime, Rita decided to make Theo's favorite food, making Theo's day even happier.

BIOGRAPHY

We are the 7th grade A. We study in the morning at Christus School, Dionisio Torres, Fortaleza, Ceará. Our class is made up of 26 students, 7 girls and 19 boys. We are a very lively group.

CREDITS

- Group 1, Outlining and Writing: José Newton, Davi de Aquino, José Lucena, Pedro Leite and Lucas Olímpio.
- Group 2, Design and Illustration: Rafael Brito, Rafael Arcanjo, João Pedro and Gabriel Bezerra.
- Group 3, Editing and Proofreading: Marcos Holanda, Valéria Teixeira, Nilo César, José Iraguassu, José Augusto, Gabriel Colares and Beatriz Cardoso.
- Group 4, Podcast and Audiobook: Iago Rios, Ian Machado, Sophia, Felipe Viana and Douglas Oliveira.
- Group 5, Advertising and Marketing: Adriana Maria, Lara Teixeira, Marina Bezerra, Maria Clara, and Laís Régis.

- Project Coordinator: Ana Paula Lima.

Theo, A Great Boy

It is a book about the different emotions and feelings that hit us through the day. It has a very accurate and sensible perspective of a young boy's life. It is a kind of reading that you cannot miss!