The four seasons of the year
??

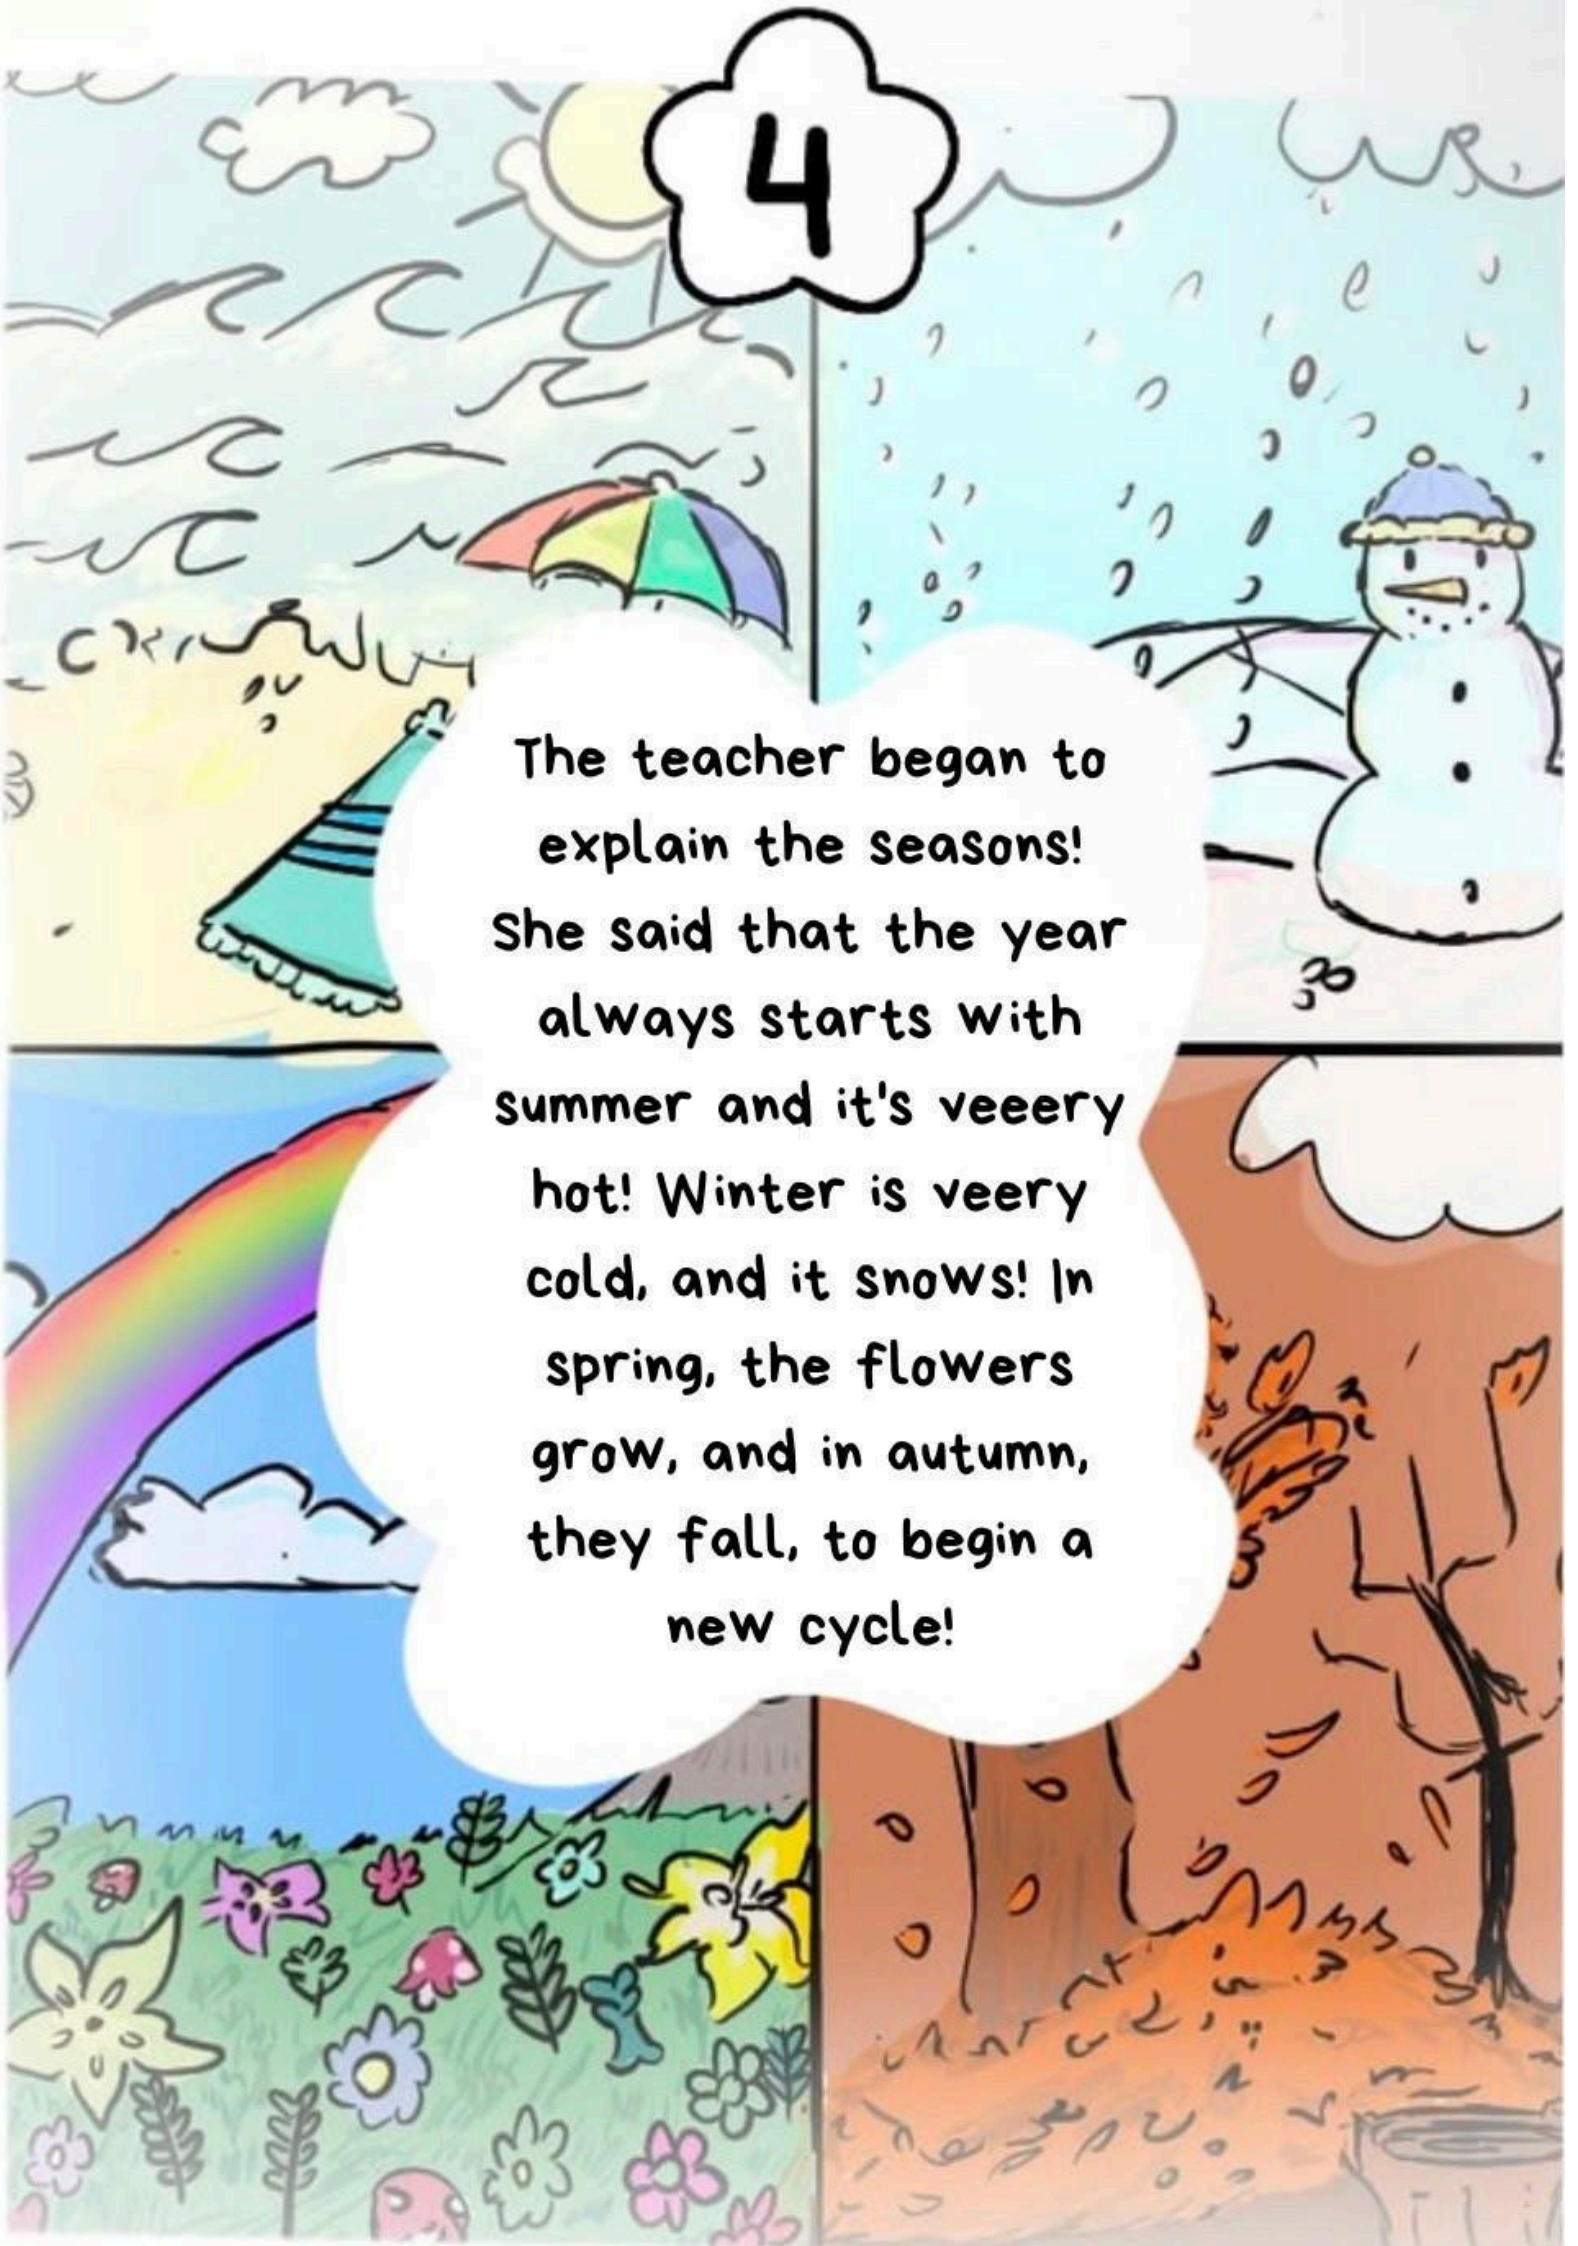

Acknowledgments

First, we want to thank our teacher Davi for the opportunity to develop this wonderful project, which we loved planning and enjoying every minute of. We also want to give a very special thank you to our class for the funny moments and how we calmly and laughingly resolved our problems. Especially for how this project made us more united and respectful of one another.

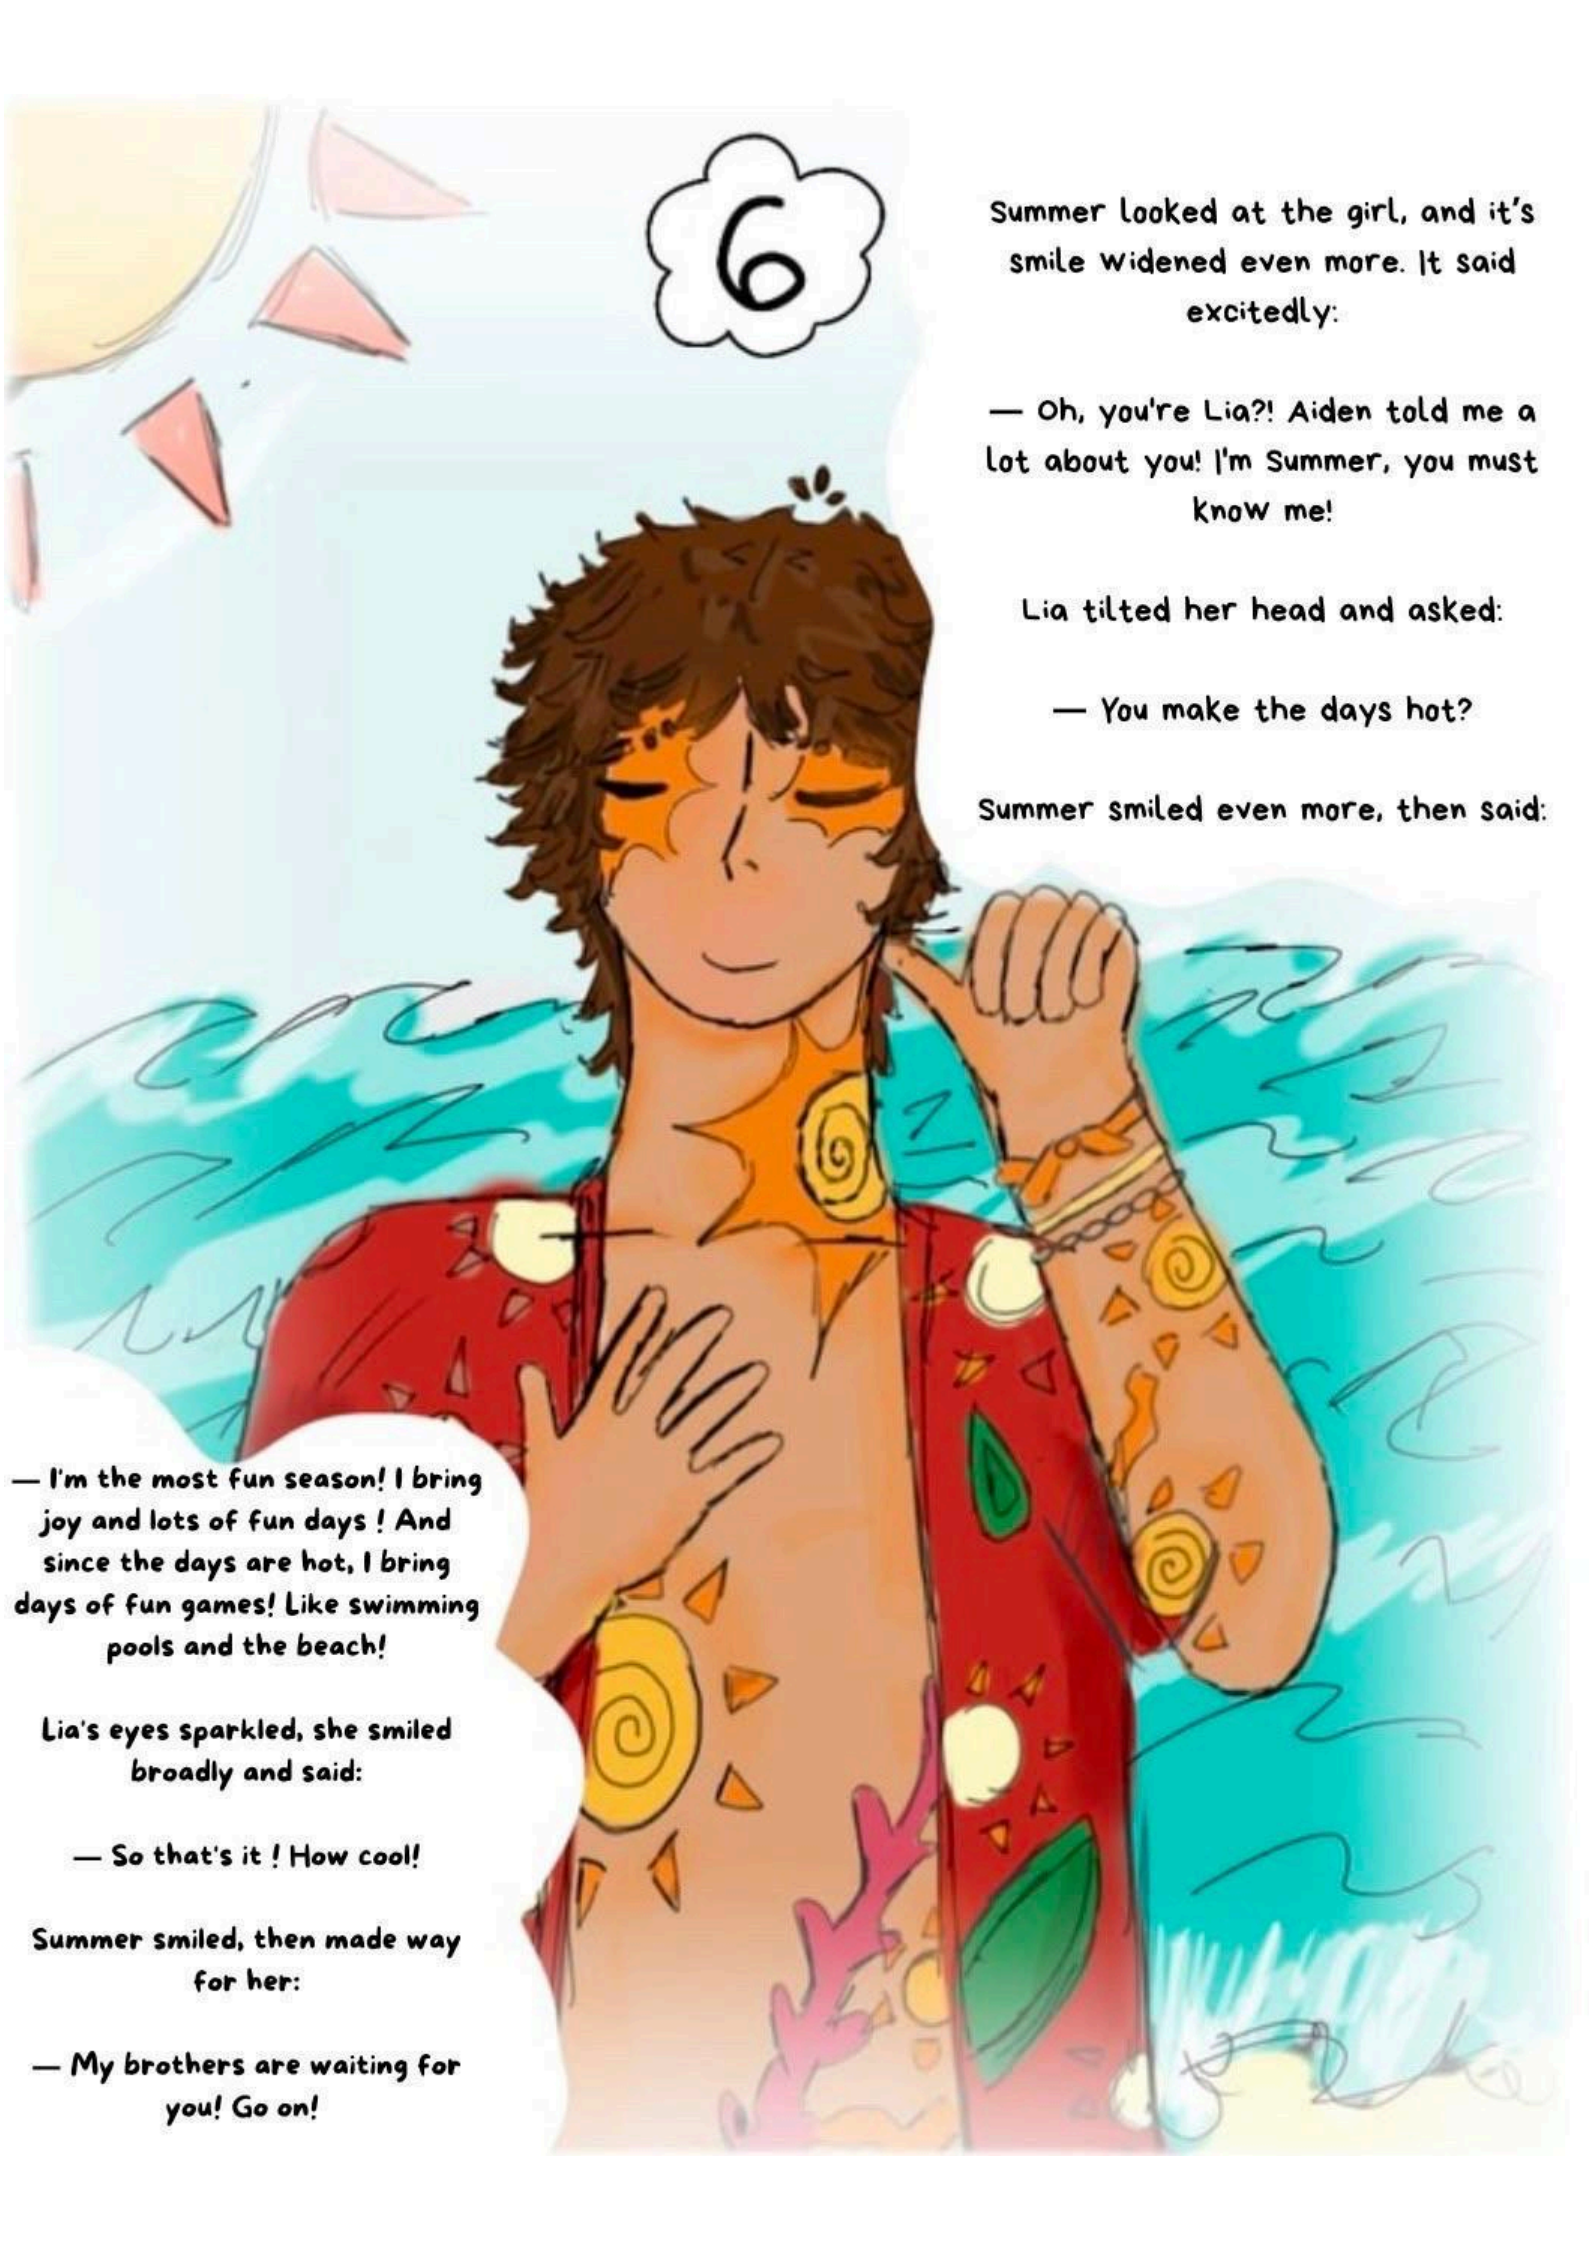

1
This is Lia! This is her first day of school. She is 5 years old and lives in Canada.
She loooves the sun!

2
As soon as the teacher entered, everyone fell silent. It was Miss Jane, the Science teacher.

4
The teacher began to explain the seasons! She said that the year always starts with summer and it's veeery hot! Winter is veery cold, and it snows! In spring, the flowers grow, and in autumn, they fall, to begin a new cycle!

5
Lia began to get distracted, lost in that wonderful world! When she realized it, she was no longer in the classroom!
She found herself on a huge beach! Soon, she saw her friend Aiden! Aiden ran to Lia and greeted her:
— Lia, Lia! I have to introduce you to my friend, Summer! Come on!
Lia followed her, and she led her to a radiant man! He was dark-haired, and seemed to glow in the sunlight! He smiled, his smile was contagious!

6
Summer looked at the girl, and it's smile widened even more. It said excitedly:
— Oh, you're Lia?! Aiden told me a lot about you! I'm Summer, you must know me!
Lia tilted her head and asked:
— You make the days hot?
Summer smiled even more, then said:
— I'm the most fun season! I bring joy and lots of fun days ! And since the days are hot, I bring days of fun games! Like swimming pools and the beach!
Lia's eyes sparkled, she smiled broadly and said:
— So that's it ! How cool!
Summer smiled, then made way for her:
— My brothers are waiting for you! Go on!

7
Lia felt the weather grow colder, and soon found herself on the edge of a frozen lake. She saw her friend, Andrew ! And she saw him gliding towards her .
— Oh, Lia . I was waiting for you, I have to introduce you to my friend .
Andrew led her to a very beautiful woman! She was elegant. She had long black hair and deep eyes ; she exuded calmness. The woman then extended her hand with a calm smile.

8
— Lia, it's a pleasure to meet you. I am Winter.
Lia shook the woman's hand happily. She was sooooo beautiful!
— You're the one who creates the snow!?
The woman laughed calmly.
— Yes, I am. My job is to bring comfort to families, and moments of leisure different from what my brother, Summer, brings. I make afternoons with hot chocolate and warm blankets. Besides o outings to play in the snow, or even sking.
Lia feels her eyes sparkle.
— That's sooooo cool! I love cold days! Mom makes such delicious hot chocolate!
Winter laughs, then makes way for Lia.
— You can go, dear. My little sister is waiting for you.

Lia followed, and saw a perfect field of flowers! It was so beautiful!

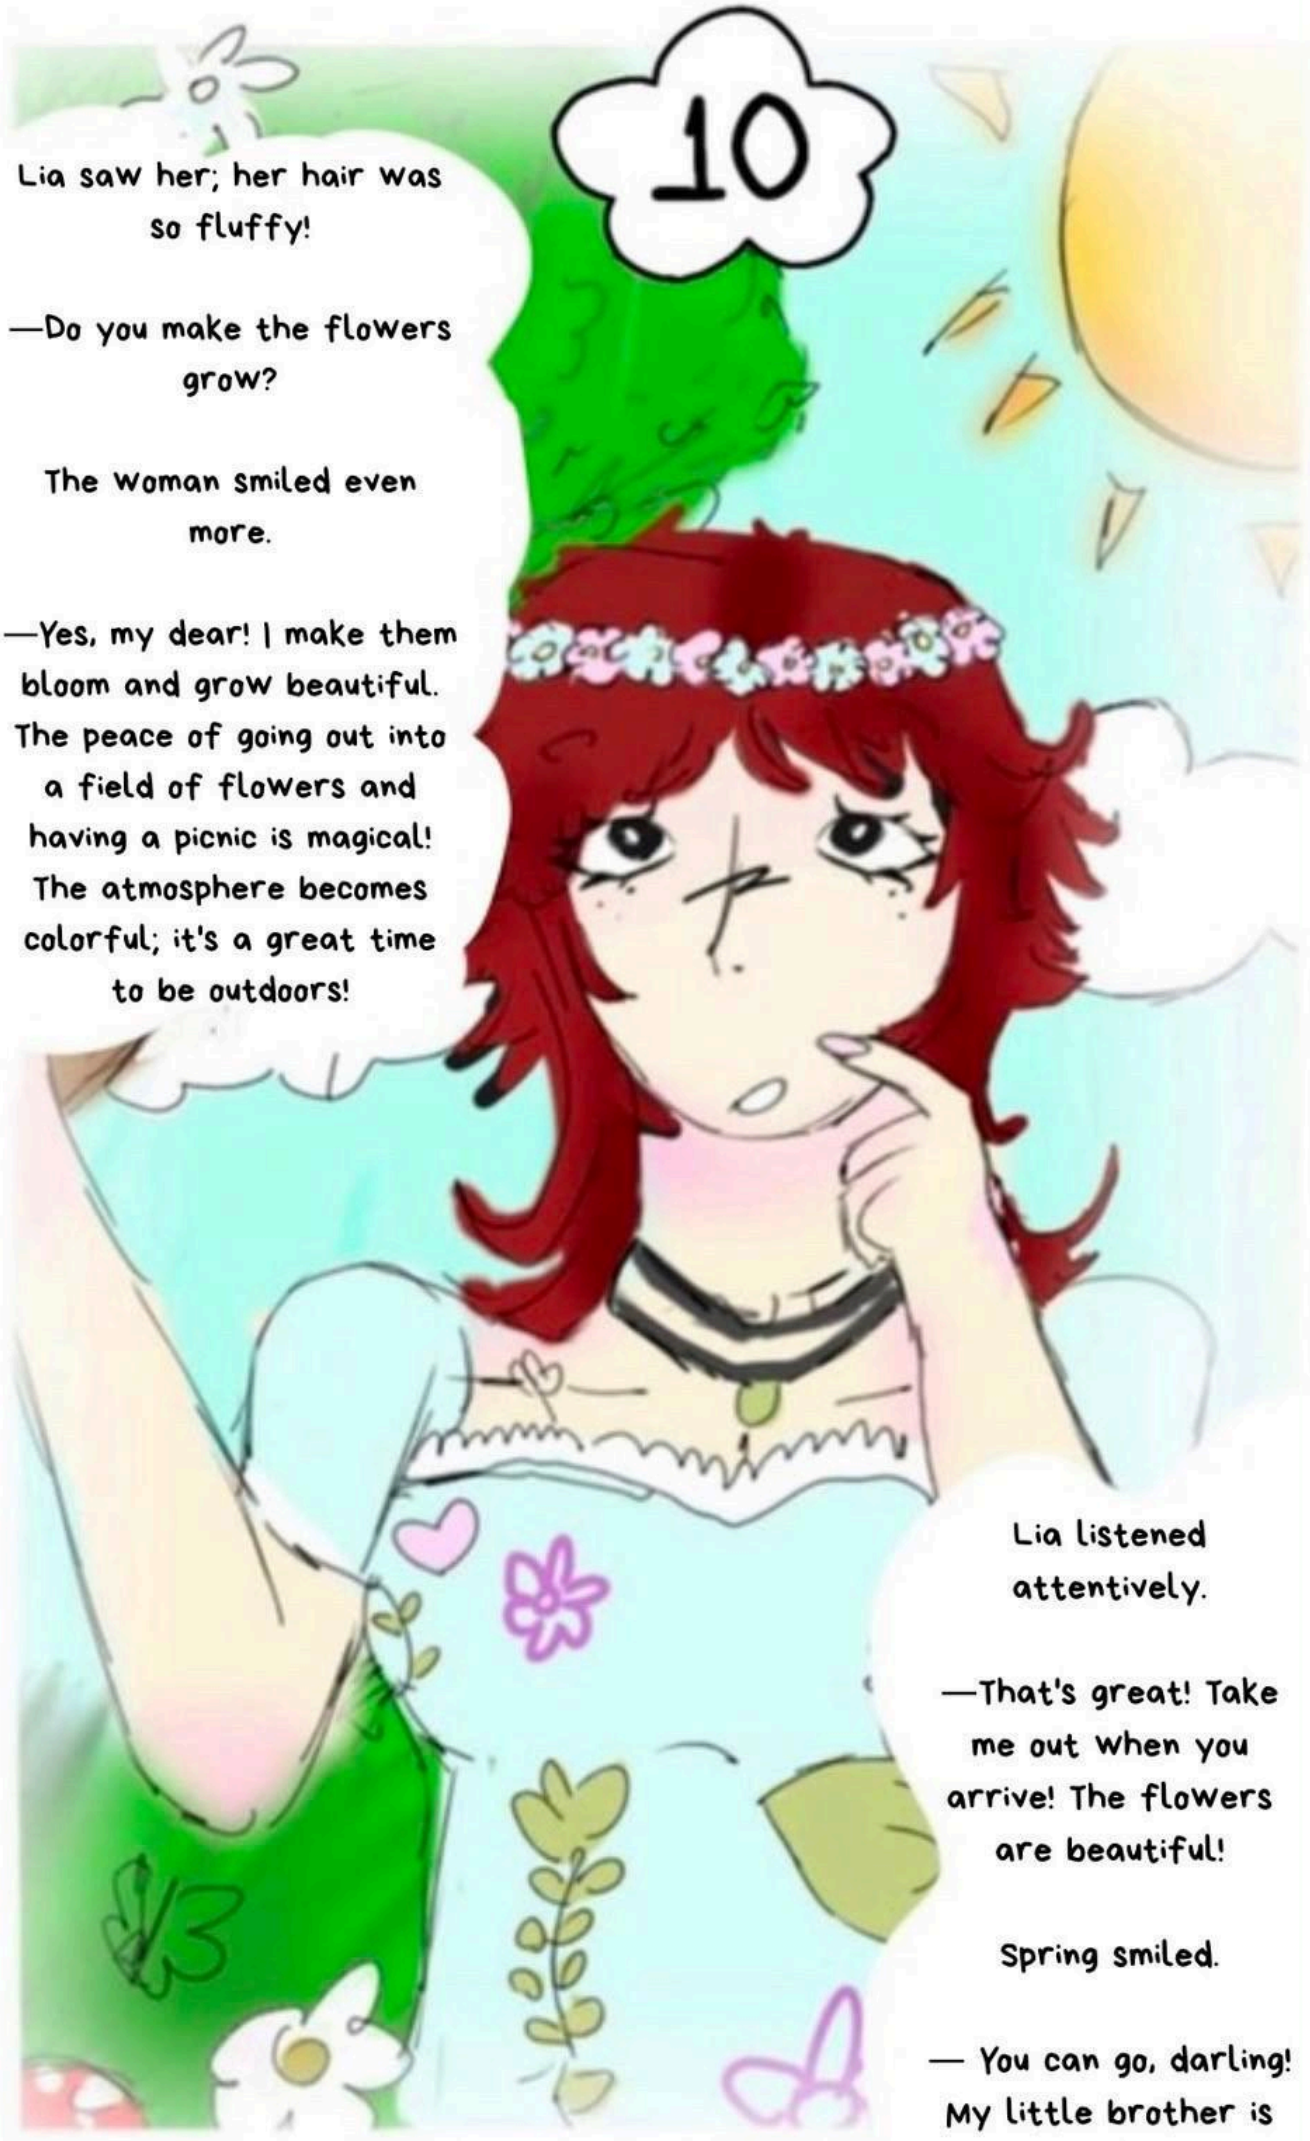

Dawn soon appeared, with a flower crown on her head. He waved to Lia with a smile:

—Lia! My friend is waiting for you, you can come .

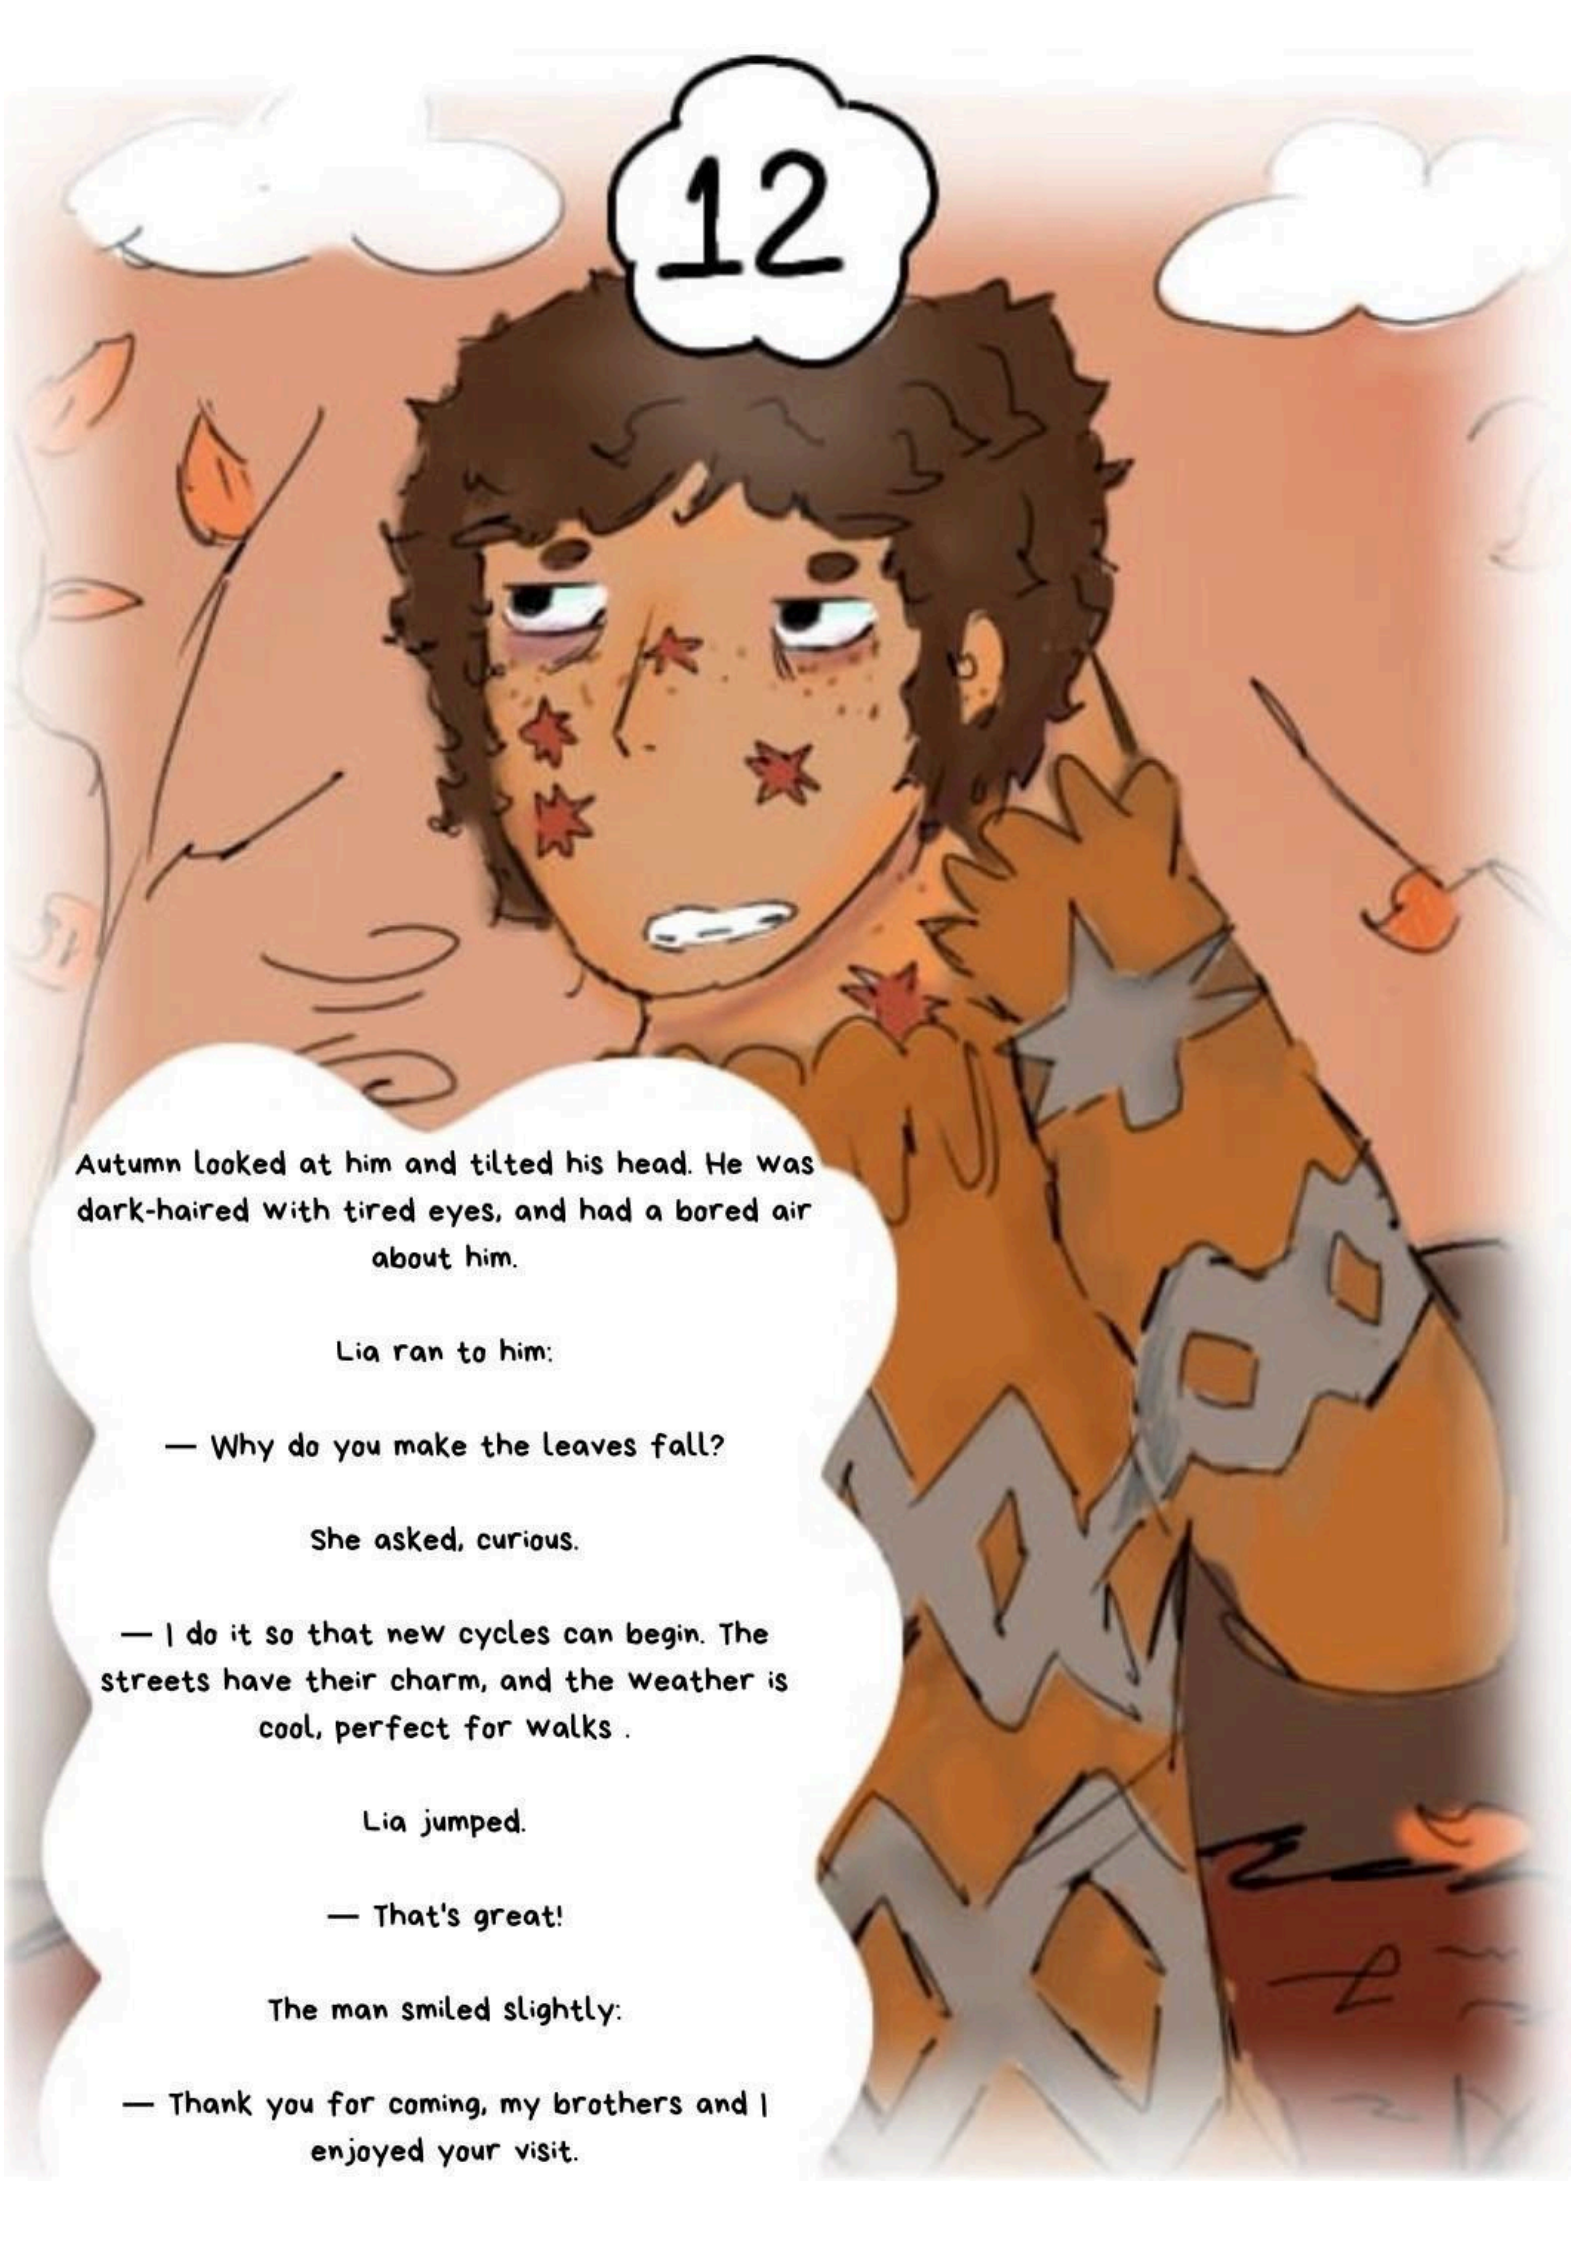

Soon she saw a woman with red hair, with flowers in her hair and on her arms. She had a lively, yet calm appearance.

She was tending to some flowers, then turned around with a warm smile .

10
Lia saw her; her hair was so fluffy!
—Do you make the flowers grow?
The woman smiled even more.
—Yes, my dear! I make them bloom and grow beautiful. The peace of going out into a field of flowers and having a picnic is magical! The atmosphere becomes colorful; it's a great time to be outdoors!
Lia listened attentively.
—That's great! Take me out when you arrive! The flowers are beautiful!
Spring smiled.
— You can go, darling! My little brother is waiting for you!

11
Lia walked on and soon saw a forest with dry leaves on the ground.
She saw her friend, Harry! He was standing next to a tree.
— Lia, my friend Autumn is waiting for you .
Harry led her to a dark-haired man who looked tired.

12
Autumn looked at him and tilted his head. He was dark-haired with tired eyes, and had a bored air about him.
Lia ran to him:
— Why do you make the leaves fall?
She asked, curious.
— I do it so that new cycles can begin. The streets have their charm, and the weather is cool, perfect for walks .
Lia jumped.
— That's great!
The man smiled slightly:
— Thank you for coming, my brothers and I enjoyed your visit.

13
Lia soon heard the signal and woke up. Her adventure was so much fun! She was hoping to see them again!

Biography

Our class consists of 12 students, 6 girls and 6 boys. Our strengths are our resilience and unity. We always enjoy learning new things and gaining new experiences.

Lia is 5 years old and it's her first day of school. When her science teacher talks to her about the four seasons, Lia becomes very curious and her imagination takes her on a spectacular adventure.

During this adventure, she meets Summer, Winter, Spring, and Autumn. Each of these seasons shows its qualities, its favorite places, and the fun things it provides. Lia learns that summer is hot, winter is snowy and cold, spring is flowery, and autumn has fallen leaves.

With lots of fun, discoveries, and friendships, Lia learns about all the seasons in a fun, lighthearted, simple, and imaginative way.
